PRESIDENT -Clyde H. Kimbrough, 449 Brookwood Drive,
Auburn, Alabama 36830

VICE PRESIDENT: - Mrs. George A. Noel, Rt. 4, Box 318,
Forest, Miss. 39074

SECRETARY - Mrs. Mary Frances Taunton, 605 - 11th Ave., N.
Alexander City, Ala. 34010

Note: All three officers are to work with the publication of the Kimbro-Kimbrough Genealogical Magazine. These officers were elected at the meeting of the Kimbro-Kimbrough Family Reunion at Auburn, Alabama Aug. 27th through Aug. 30th 1975.

At the Kimbro-Kimbrough Reunion a business meeting was held and the Kimbro-Kimbrough Genealogical Association was reorganized and the above officers were elected. It was voted that only two issues of a Kimbro-Kimbrough Genealogical Magazine be published each year and that membership for the Association be raised to $12.00 per year. They also voted that the incomplete Volume VI with two issues complete be sent out to members for $6.00 with an index. The two Volumes of two issues each for 1976-77 will include an index.

We promise by the hardest to get you the two Volumes out before the reunion which is planned for Aug. 25th through Aug. 28th, 1977.

We solicit your queries, news items, old and new, your genealogical data relating to your family or any branch thereof. News items of births, marriages, deaths etc., are very important to genealogy. We want to thank those who have been so kind to send in clippings from time to time. These clippings are now being glued to a hard back and put into a binder for safe keeping and used as a source of material for publication.

Neither the Editor nor the Association can accept responsibility for correctness of materials supplied by our contributors, but every effort will be made to publish factual data. Please call any mistakes to our attention for correction.

PLEASE NOTIFY THE PRESIDENT IMMEDIATELY OF ANY CHANGE IN ADDRESS, OR DESIRE TO HAVE THE QUARTERLY MAILED ELSEWHERE.

First Half 1976

Dear Cousins-by-the-dozens:

It has been a slow process getting to this point, but I hope now that we will be getting into your hand some more wonderful Kimbro-Kimbrough Genealogy. With the help of Mrs. Noel and Mrs. Taunton I think that we can provide you some more Kimbro-Kimbrough genealogy that you will enjoy having. There is no doubt that we have considerable data in our files but we want you to stop gathering and sending it for we are just beginning to tie many branches of the family. (NOTE: Surely that's not what he meant to say! He must have meant to say, "...but we don't want you to stop gathering and sending it...", rbk.)

The Kimbro-Kimbrough Family Reunion here in Auburn, Alabama was one of the best things that has happened to the family in all my twenty years of working on the genealogy of this wonderful family. The Reunion proved to me that it is a wonderful family. We had representatives from many branches of the family and from many places and everyone had a ball. It was the group's idea to have it again here in Auburn about the same time of year and for the same length of period. It has tentatively been set to begin at noon Aug. 25th and continue to Noon Sunday. Aug. 28th 1977. Let me ask you to begin to make plans to come. Wherever you live you are not too far away. We will have them coming from Washington and California next year. There will be plenty of room as it is scheduled between University Quarters when most of students are away. At the reunion we were able to enjoy one another and exchange information. It will give you a chance to look upon many you have never seen and you will be surprised how close you will be before you leave Auburn.

It is a very hard thing for your president who is acting as editor to get into the publishing field. At present I am writing on the average of about a letter or two a day on genealogy and often I am behind. Recently I had typewriter breakdown and I had to take the Association mimeograph machine for repairs to Montgomery, Ala. This required three trips. Now everything is in order and I want to get something out to you as soon as possible. It will be out in 1977 before we can finish up the Vol. VII with index. We will wait until we finish before we contact you and mail everything together.

At reunion it was voted to reduce the number of magazines from four to two a year and to raise the membership dues from $4.00 per year to $12.00 per year. Looking back I think that the dues were raised too much and should be cutback to a much smaller figure and that those who have paid dues at the high figure be given credit of extended membership. That will be recommended by your president at the next reunion. I feel sure it will pass, however I cannot guarantee it.

It is good to be revived.

KIMBROUGHS IN ILLINOIS
WILLIAM KIMBROUGH LINEAGE

By Leo E. Kimbrough

We are beginning in this issue the records of Leo E. Kimbrough, 525 Marion, Warsaw, Illinois 63379, who is descended from a William Kimbrough. The data contained in this record was painstakingly collected by Leo over a period of several years.

Also included in his records is another William Kimbrough who was born in Virginia about 1783, married Susan Wyatt and moved to Todd County, Ky. about 1833. Maybe someone will be able to identify this Virginia William Kimbrough for Leo; he has not been able to determine if his William Kimbrough and this William are related: Or maybe someone will be able to identify the parentage of Leo's William Kimbrough.

Following is quotation of Leo's Narrative:

The following account is what is known of two brothers, William and Thomas Jefferson Kimbrough, taking up William's history then that of T. J. In 1969 this writer spent five days in the Historical Library at Frankfort, Ky., looking for the names of any brothers or sisters, or the names of parents of the above mentioned but to no avail. The data contained herein was taken from family records and from the records of Hancock County, Ill., and in one instance from the death records of Rock Hill, Mo., in Butler County.

Another Kimbrough who could possibly be a brother to Wm. and T. J. appeared on page 272, Hancock County census of Aug. 19, 1850. He was James N. Kimbrough, 32. Carpenter by trade, born in Ky.

Elizabeth A. Kimbrough,	25	born in Ill.
James A. Kimbrough	12	" " "
Seth Cason	71	" " Va.
William Cason	27	" " Ill.
Nancy J. Cason	14	" " "

There is no other data on this family in this writer's files which leads one to believe they left Illinois for parts unknown. Could they have gone back to Ky., or were they lured to some riches in the West? Also, could the maiden name of Mrs. James N. Kimbrough be Cason?

The above William Kimbrough, who was born in 1810 in Christian County, Ky., should not be confused with another William Kimbrough who was born in Virginia in 1783. No middle initial has been found for either Wm. making identification difficult. This Wm. was married to Susan Wyatt, born in Va. m, 1793. This was a very large family with many descendants, the data of which will be found under a separate cover. These two families lived in Ky., one in Todd County, and the other in Christian County; and both came to Ill. in 1833, settling four or five miles southeast of Carthage. They are buried in cemeteries two and one-half miles apart in that area. No records have been found to indicate their kinship, but one could conclude that the elder was an uncle to the younger. An aged aunt of this writer, Mrs. Blanche Kimbrough White of Carthage, claims, when speaking of the descendants of this Wm. that they were 'only cousins.'

A long time ago a child was buried on a piece of ground, and this place became known as the "Old Jim Boston Burrin' Ground." A Primitive Baptist Church made of brick was built there and may have been called the Little Brick Church as the cemetery around it is some times called the "Little Brick Cemetery." In 1890 the church was declared unsafe for use and was torn down. Somewhere along the way the cemetery became known as the "Old Brick" and if it ever had a formal name this writer has never learned of it.

In reviewing other family charts it appears that William Kimbrough was the fifth generation from Colonist John Kimbrough and until more data are available he will be listed as K4a. The four to indicate the number of generations descended, and the a as the first child in his family. The 4 is his father's place in the clan and the "a" coming after the 4 equals one more generation, or four plus a equals 5. Using this formula, a great grandson, such as I, would be listed as K4a7a1 and would put me in the eight generation. (As I type this material, I am adding the generation number in each name--ALN)

K4a. William 5 Kimbrough was born in Christian County, Ky., Nov. 15, 1810, and local family records indicate he came to Hancock County, Ill. in 1833 and settled somewhere about seven miles Southeast of Carthage, the County seat. No middle name or initial has been found for William to better identify him. He must have made his living from farming or farm related work. He died about 1868 and was buried in the Old Brick Cemetery located in Section 35, Carthage Township, Hancock County, Ill. There are no stones for him or for either of his two wives.

William's first wife was Martha B. Cauthorn, date and place of birth and marriage not known, but she died early in 1850, leaving a daughter not more than three months old. She, too is buried in Old Brick Cemetery. There were six children.

EXCURSUS - "THE KIMBROUGH FAMILY" FROM THE FILES OF THE LATE
ROWELL A. BILLUPS (1899-1960), GREENWOOD, MISSISSIPPI

f. Sarah (Sallie) Jane 4 Kimbrough, b. 1846 or 1847, d. 1923 at Mabank, Kaufman Co., Tex. She was m. in Carrollton, Miss. by Rev. H. F. Sproles May 8, 1872 to William Green Thomas, b. Mar.
1, 1848 near Fulton, Miss., d. Oct. 15, 1923 at Wills Point, Tex., in home of his son, Pleas T. Thomas. William Green Thomas was the son of Pleasant Green and Souka (Bourland) Thomas.

As a young man William G. Thomas was very studious, even after going to work he studied at night for his education, and taught school for a time in Miss., and worked in a store.

He then went to Texas, found work at Bryant, went back to Miss. where he married Sallie Kimbrough, and brought her back to Bryan. After his second son was born, he moved out a short distance on a farm, still going to work in Bryan. His father, Green Thomas ran the farm. His third child was born there.

In December 1881, his wife, Sallie Kimbrough Thomas, went back to her father's home in Carrollton, where her baby, Pattie Ethel, was born, who lived just a few weeks, and was buried in Carrollton.

In December, 1881, they moved to Kaufman Co., Tex., four miles south of Terrell, in the College Mound Community. He bought a 320 acre farm, and later, 120 acres adjoining. Here the last four children were born.

He sold his farm in 1893, moved to Van Zandt County, six miles south of Wills Point, and bought an 860 acre farm. He lived there until 1904, when he sold the farm and moved out into West Texas to Matador, Motley Co., where he went into the dry goods business for himself. Several years later he moved back to East Texas, living for a time at Edgewood, Myrtle Springs, then to Mabank. He was in the mercantile business with his son-in-law, A. J. Tyler until 1921.

In 1920, he had a stroke of paralysis and was an invalid for a year before his death. He and his wife are buried in College Mound Cemetery, where his father, Pleasant Green Thomas is also buried.

William Thomas was graduated from Nashville Medical College and did post graduate work at Tulane University, specializing in psychiatry. After marrying, he practiced medicine at Matador, Tex., later becoming assistant at the State Hospital at Terrell. During World War I he was medical officer at Hoboken, N. J.

Dr. Thomas was superintendent of the State Hospital at Trusk, Tex. from 1927 to 1937, and then superintendent of the Terrell State Hospital until 1946 when he resigned because of ill health. Upon recovery, he became medical assistant at the Confederate Home and later was Supt. of the State School at Mexia for three years before retiring to his home at Terrell. Dr. Thomas was often called as an expert witness insanity trials. (Ref. Dallas, Tex. Morning News, July 1, 1953.)

NORTH CAROLINA DEATHS, MARRIAGES, AND LEGAL NOTICES, 1826-1830. Taken from the Greensboro Newspaper, which was called The Patriot, The Patriot & Greensboro Palladium, and The Greensborough Patriot during the years 1826-1830. The paper was issued weekly, but several issues were not available for searching. While "The Patriot" was published in Guilford County, it actually covered much of Western North Carolina, as will be seen by the following abstracts of genealogist interest.

The Ridge Runners, Vol. IV, No. 2, Aug. 1975, p. 104, issue 17.

Legal notice. Guilford County, Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, Aug. Term 1827. ALN), Daniel Foust and his wife Sally. Petition for partition. Defendants are not inhabitants of this State.

lyn Masonic Cemetery, Lot #35, Brooklyn, Ind., daughter of (____), had at least two brothers, Peter and George Kimbro. There was a Peter Kimbro who married 22 June 1818, Orange County, N. C., a Barbary Coble, daughter of Daniel Coble. Was he Catherine's brother? CATHERINE knew and talked with her great-grandfather, who was born in 1710 and lived to be almost 100 years old. Who was he? She m. (1st) PETER COBLE (whose ancestor changed the spelling of surname, Kobel, to Coble, when he came to this country), had at least two sisters, one named Barbara and the other unknown. PETER and CATHERINE had four daughters (one born in Ind.) and one son. All the above came together, with the exception of the unknown named sister of Peter Coble, from N. C. to Indiana and settled in Morgan County, where they were found with their families in the 1830 census. (See query at end of section.) There was also a Jacob Coble listed in the 1830 census for Morgan County, Ind. CATHERINE m. (2) James Davis Medaris, they had one daughter. James was a farmer, veterinarian, minister of the gospel, War of 1812 Veteran, and a widower with ten children, nine sons and one daughter. He was m. Records show that John McDaniel came to Brooklyn in the late 1860's, after the death of Elizabeth (1856) and his marriage to Margaret Coble Marley (1857). John needed a wife to raise his younger children. The Marleys probably came into Indiana about the same time as did Peter and Barbara. A section of Mooresville is named Marleywood.

John was a miller; ground grain for human and animal consumption. He had a mill in the western part of Morgan Co., in the Monrovia neighborhood. Probably Peter had the original mill there for he and Barbara were buried in that area. In Indiana, 50 years after the last burial, the cemetery reverts to the original owner and may become a field or a cow pasture.

My father, Ira Asbury McDaniel and his older sister Rachel Matilda, are the only ones of the first of John's children to stay in Brooklyn.

The above information was obtained from Miss Gertrude E. McDaniel, Westminster Village, Apt. 219, Greenwood, Indiana 46142.

Judge John W. McCall, 91, a former chairman of the Southern Baptist Brotherhood Commission here and the father of Dr. Duke K. McCall, president of The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, died in Nairobi, Kenya, Monday, April 12. (1976-ALN)

Judge McCall, long-time attorney and former city judge here (Memphis) was in Nairobi at the home of his daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Bethea, medical missionaries serving under the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

Dr. Bethea accompanied the body back to the United States. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church, Memphis, Tenn. on Friday, April 16, and burial was at Oxford, Miss.

Judge McCall, a prominent, Baptist layman, served on several denominational boards, including the Baptist Brotherhood Commission, of which he was chairman of its executive committee, 1946-50 and chairman of the commission 1950-64. He served on the commission 1922-64.

He served also on the Social Service Commission, now the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, was a member of the Tri-State Baptist Hospital Board in Memphis. For more than 25 years, he was chairman of the deacons at First Baptist Church, Memphis. During that time span, he taught a Sunday School Class that was broadcast by radio each Sunday.

His wife the former Lizette Kimbrough, of Oxford, Miss., died several years ago. He is survived by three sons and two daughters. President McCall (of the Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. - ALN), John McCall, Jr., a surgeon of Memphis, and Dr. Charles McCall, dean of the University of Tennessee, Memphis, Medical School. Daughters are Mrs. Bethea, and Mrs. James E. Flowers, formerly of Covington, Tenn., now of Memphis; also several grandchildren and great grandchildren survive.

The family asked that donations be made to the Lizette McCall Fund for World Missions and Evangelism through Southern Seminary, or to First Baptist Church, Memphis.

An Adventure in Living: Exodus of an Old Home

Aubrey and Billy Whittington made a decision on impulse one Sunday afternoon and as a result they are moving a huge, two-story house in four sections to their property on Money Road several miles distant.

"We called to inquire about the house", Billy said, "and they told us that the wreckers were already on the way to tear it down."

The owners did agree, however, to give the house, located on River Road, to the Whittingtons if they would move it from the property.

"We had been looking at the house for a long time," Billy said. "And estimates for moving it and redoing it were cheaper than estimates for building a new one of comparable size."

Moving the house has involved removing the porches and pillars and cutting the structure into four sections.

House Movers, Inc., owned by Bo. Branch of Morgan City, cut the house on the wall lines where possible so that when it is reconstructed the seams will not show. Robert Utroska is supervising the actual moving.

Putting it back together seems a monumental task at this point, but her friends say: "If anybody can do it, Aubrey can."

"I just can't worry about every detail," Aubrey said. "So many things have been broken in the moving process, but I haven't even gone over there to watch. The only way I know they are moving a section is when I am down town and the traffic is backed up because the movers are blocking the streets," she said.

FROM HERE AND THERE- Clippings and News Items

The movers are responsible for rejoining the sections of the house on its new lot. The next step will be to have the ceilings rebuilt and the second story floors reconstructed.

The house was built around 1906 by Judge McC. Kimbrough, a prominent Greenwood lawyer. It was sold to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gilpin around 1935 by the Kimbrough heirs.

Years later after the Gilpin family had left the house it was divided into apartments. The house had been vacant for the past three years.

"There were six bedrooms in the house, originally, five upstairs and one downstairs," Aubrey explains.

She grew up on the River Road and she used to walk by the house as a child.

A European artist who was living in residence in Greenwood, according to Aubrey, painted murals on the walls throughout the house while it was owned by the Kimbroughs. A landscape scene was painted on the dining room wall.

In the living room was the (sic) Kimbrough coat of arms and hand-painted borders were on the ceilings in the living room.

"The murals were done on canvas," Aubrey said. She was able to remove all the canvas from the walls and hopes to have it restored to be replaced in the house one day.

"We owe something to the house," she said. "I want to keep it as it was. We are not going to modernize it or knock out walls to change the room arrangement or anything," She said.

She described the house as "definitely paster (sic,rbk), and definitely formal." And even though some of the decor is not exactly to her taste, she plans to return it to its original state in as many ways as possible.

Mrs. Gilpin and two of the Gilpin daughters still live in Greenwood. Gloris (Mrs. Harold Hemmer) and Pat (Mrs. E. A. Heinrich), were both married in the house.

"They seemed so pleased that the house was going to be restored," Aubrey said, "and several Greenwood people who were connected with the house at one time during their lives have called to express their interest in its restoration."

Many of the removal pieces, such as brass doorknobs, and the oak staircase, had already been sold. "The people who bought them have sold them back to us," Aubrey said.

"The house in its heyday must have been as grand as any in Natchez," Billy said.

FROM HERE AND THERE- Clippings and News Items

The Whittingtons estimate that it will be at least another year before the house will be ready for occupancy.

One section remains on River Road and will be moved next week.

"We are not in a hurry. It's going to take some time to know the house and see what needs to be done to do justice to it," Aubrey said.

Will some of you Kimbrough descendants in the Greenwood vicinity keep us informed of the progress of the old house? ALN

KIMBROUGH NAMED HEAD FOOTBALL COACH AT PLANO

Tommy Kimbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kimbrough of Valley Mills has been named head football coach of Class AAAA Plano High School. Kimbrough assumed the reins last Wednesday when former coach John Clark resigned to devote full time duties as athletic director.

Kimbrough graduated from Valley Mills High School in 1963 and later from Texas Christian University (1968) with a major in physical education and biology. He received his Master's degree in education last year. He has been an assistant coach at Plano eight years and offensive coordinator the last four years.

During these eight years, Plano has had phenomenal success, having won seven district championships in classes AA, AAA, and AAAA, and one state championship.

Kimbrough is married to the former Linda Bassham of Fort Worth who was an art student at T. C. U. They have one child, Kimberly Kaye, age 3.

Valley Mills has furnished several coaches to Plano, Keith Stockwell, Joe Barnett, and Maurice Hayes, besides Kimbrough.

Following are excerpts taken from an article by Ed Voss, Sports Editor for the Plano Daily Star-Courier:

How do you change a football program that has been as successful as Plano's?

You don't, according to Plano Senior High School's new football coach, Tommy Kimbrough.

Kimbrough served eight years as Wildcat assistant, coaching and learning each facet of the game called football. Kimbrough is confident that he is capable of continuing the Wildcat tradition and is now laying the groundwork for upcoming spring training.

"I'm real happy to become Plano's new head coach," Kimbrough said. "I've always wanted to be a head coach, and I'm happy for this opportunity."

FROM HERE AND THERE- Clippings and News Items

"I won't have any one position that I will coach, such as the backfield. I'll be coordinating the whole program organizing such as practices," Kimbrough said.

"A head coach is more of an organizer. I hope to coach each position, but someone else will be in charge of coaching each position."

Another facet of the Wildcat football program that Kimbrough will continue to emphasize is Christianity.

"One of my priorities will be to maintain the Christian atmosphere which Coach Clark started," Kimbrough said.

Coach Kimbrough has set one goal for his teams, to be their best. "My main goal will be that the kids reach their potential as a team. I don't mean in terms of win-loss records."

He first coached the Bowman Junior High eighth grade team, winning the district championship. He was then elevated to the high school staff.

In his first season, he coached the defensive line, followed by the secondary the next season, then receivers before finding a resting place, coaching the back-field, later the offensive coordinator.

How does Kimbrough feel about following Clark as head football coach?

"There is no doubt, it is a challenge," Coach Kimbrough said. "Coach Clark, I feel is the greatest coach in the state. I am his number one fan."

"There is no doubt that I will be compared with him, and I could use his achievements as a standard, but I'd rather not. I'd rather be known for my own achievements rather than to be compared to someone."

Coach Kimbrough doesn't have any regular hobby he indulges in. Coaching serves as both work and pleasure for Kimbrough.

"I love my work, it is a pleasure, not a business."

JAMES ALLEN KIMBROUGH ---- The subject of this sketch, "Uncle Jim Poney" Kimbrough, was born in this county Dec. 9, 1830 and died Feb. 6, 1923, making him a little more than 92 years of age. He was married to Jemina C. Gotcher July 12, 1855, who died May 23, 1922. Here was born to them seven children, six of whom are still living, William Colvin, James L., Mrs. Frances Grissom, Mrs. Docia Bodgett, Mrs. Betty Malone and Mrs. Martha McNatt.

He was grandfather to 37, great-grandfather to 131, great-great grandfather to 36, a fact that is rare in family history.

He united with Sandlick (now Crooked Oak) Baptist Church in 1860 of which he was a consistent member to his death.

He was a confederate veteran, having served in the Civil War four years, making a brave patriotic soldier from the day he entered until he was discharged from service at the close of the war.

Mr. Editor: Seeing a request in your column for the old men of the county who witnessed the erection of the court house walls, to let you hear from them. I have decided to give you a bit of my experience. On the 6th day of March 1827, my father with his family, landed on Walnut Creek and settled near where the bridge now spans the creek, close to the residence of Hon. P. D. Render. The county was then a vast wilderness. Large cane brakes, thickly infested with wild animals, bears and panthers abounded. Old man Durham then lived on what is yet known as the Durham place, and of course we had no public roads and no Greenville. In 1828, the question of founding Greenville was agitated and trouble arose as to the proper location. Durham contended with others in favor of locating the town on the Freeman lot, it being considered the center of the county. Col. Potter and others favored putting it where it now stands, one dry goods store being there kept by Jim Hill.

The citizens that year erected a lot* court house for he sitting of our Superior Court, where the present one now stands. The first court held was presided over by Judge Walter T. Colquitt. The same year a log hotel was opened by Thos. Hardaway, both houses having dirt floors. Those rude structures were used until the present court house was built. I was present when the trenches were dug to lay the foundation for the walls of the court house.. The bricks were made down south of town, on the tan yard ranch. The jail house was completed before the court house, and was built of hewn logs, double walls, with a space between filled in with poles. The first criminal confined in its walls was Conner, charged with the murder of Allen. Conner made his escape by boring out and was never brought back. I saw the first man hung, the subject being a negro man, belonging to a man named Sharp. These facts are stated to the best of my recollection. Jan. 29, 1884 by Thos. K. Wheelless (Son of Abner Wheelless)

Mr. Editor: As some interest is being taken in the early settling of the County, I will give you a few more dots, hoping to interest some of your readers.

When my father with his family, stopped on Walnut Creek to make it his home all we had was out on the ground with out any shelter. We soon erected a shelter to protect us from the rain. Plank was not to be had, as there was no saw or grist mills in the county. There was a little saw and grist mill on the Pike side of the river, at Flat Shoals, owned by Eliza Phillips. Our travel was then by Indian trails. Ten or a dozen of us as road hands began at Greenville and first cut out the Flat Shoals road to the district line. Afterwards we cut the Talbotton road then Clegg's ferry road, the road leading to Sandtown, (Woodbury) and if there is another man living who helped to cut the above roads, I would like to hear from him. There was not exceeding 200 acres of cleared land in the county when I moved to it. My father brought 30 or 40 sheep with him and we had to pen them close about our quarters at night to keep the wolves from destroying them.

FROM HERE AND THERE- Clippings and News Items

It was quite common for the wolves to howl near the pen at night. Bear hunting was our most exciting thing then, and I have brought them to bay and killed them often near Greenville. The woods had no small growth, only large timber, and we could see a turkey or wild animal at quite a distance. Fish were abundant, but the cane was so thick on the banks we could scarcely get to the water, but by winding in and out on Walnut creek we could catch as many as we wanted in a short time with our hooks. Soon after we settled, I went out hunting, and had to stay in the woods all night. Sleeping under an old shell of a log, the savage animals came close enough to hear them walking through the leaves. It's hardly necessary to tell you I slept none. In the year 1827 we cleared and fenced 25 acres of land, planting the last on the 6th day of June. The corn was fine but the frost caught it. In 1828 we planted some cotton, going to Pike county after the seed, and made two small bales. The cotton was carried down the Talbotton road below where Dr. Barnes now lives, in the 2nd district. It was hauled to Macon and sold.

I was then a young man and we young people had parties that were parties. None of those nonsense affairs they have now. We would make up a dance and the girls and boys would meet for the Ball on the dirt floor. I was detailed on one occasion to tote water to sprinkle the floor between sets to keep down the dust, and it took five barrels. More fun the than now. Fighting was common, but knives and pistols were not used. I have lived not far from the place where we first settled nearly ever since, and I never was a witness in a case and never had a law suit. I heard then of a railroad being built in South Carolina, but had no idea of ever seeing a steam car, but I have seen long trains time and again, and if you do not delay too long I hope yet to see the iron horse come puffing into the little town whose first houses I helped to erect fifty seven years ago.
